

Residence Hall Association

Are you looking for an amazing leadership experience? Want to polish your resume? Are you interested in meeting some new people? Are you looking for an opportunity to voice your opinion about living in the residence halls?

If you answered YES to any of these questions, then you should consider joining Rutgers Residence Hall Association! The Rutgers Residence Hall Association (RHA) is a student government organization which represents all students living in the residence halls. RHA works closely with university administrators to improve the residential experience for all students. Each year RHA also organizes amazing educational, leadership, service and social programs for residential students.

So now you might be wondering “How do I get involved?” Great question!

There are several opportunities for you to become actively involved in Rutgers Residence Hall Association! You can run for a position on your hall or apartment government executive board or attend an RHA sponsored program!

For more information about Rutgers Residence Hall Association speak to your Resident Assistant (RA), or Graduate Hall Director (GHD) during move in or you can contact:
